

Corvallis, Oregon –

Seed Research of Oregon (SRO) has presented Frank Lopes of ProSource One, Watkinville, GA office, its 2003 Marketing Excellence Award. This is an annual award given for outstanding efforts to promote and establish the Seed Research brand, its products and services.

Frank's hard work and efforts have helped make Champion GQ and Dominant the products of choice for golf course superintendents with their overseeding needs.

Frank's professionalism, knowledge and commitment to the industry exemplify the standards that create true value in the marketplace. Providing world-class technical support in combination with the highest quality products available sets this excellence standard. Seed Research of Oregon congratulates Frank Lopes, and thanks him for his continuing efforts in the professional arena.
